2,000 Flee Montana Flood

At Least 30 Die; Damage Runs High

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (AP)—Flood waters chased at least 2,000 persons from their homes here Tuesday night after leaving 30 or more dead and hundreds homeless upstream.

Gov. Tim Babcock estimated damage from the flood, Montana's worst, at $10 million. President Johnson declared seven northwestern counties a disaster area.

In the northwest, hit first by the three-day flood, waters receded and rescue teams started mopping up.

The Sun River crested 11 feet over its flood stage of 12 feet at midnight in this city of 70,000. A spokesman for the Air Force and National Guard's rescue operations estimated 2,000 to 3,000 persons were evacuated from homes here and in the flooded areas to the west and north.

Tom Sullivan, manager of a Red Cross shelter, said he had made records of about 1,300 persons evacuated from homes west of Great Falls and from an exclusive residential area surrounding a country club and golf course. The shelter is in West Side Junior High School, where more than 200 residents slept Tuesday night.

The 14th Street bridge in Great Falls held fast despite a heavy pounding by water, trees, parts of farm buildings and other debris.

A natural gas pipeline under the Sixth Street bridge burst with a shudder that was felt by onlookers.

Air Force teams said they rescued at least 200 persons from rural areas. The Air Force was using Malmstrom Air Force Base at Great Falls for a headquarters for 11 helicopters and other craft.

Pilots made 38 flights Tuesday and were prepared to take additional supplies to flood victims evacuated to other areas.

At least 400 were homeless in the northwest counties of Cascade, Chouteau, Flathead, Glacier, Pondera, Teton and Toole, those designated for federal disaster relief. Hardest hit was the Blackfoot Indian Reservation.

Random Missile Fires OK in Readiness Test

VANDERBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—The Air Force fired a missile it picked at random from among the nation's combat-ready Minuteman missile bases.

The missile and its crew were sent to Vandenberg for the reliability test.

Crewmen fired it Tuesday—and it lifted off perfectly and streaked west down the Pacific missile range toward an undisclosed target area 5,000 miles away.

Shapely Girl Cave Dweller Gets Assistance Offers

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—A professed Pennsylvania cave dweller and a Georgia Tech nature lover have responded to the plight of a Texas girl evicted from her lakeside cave.

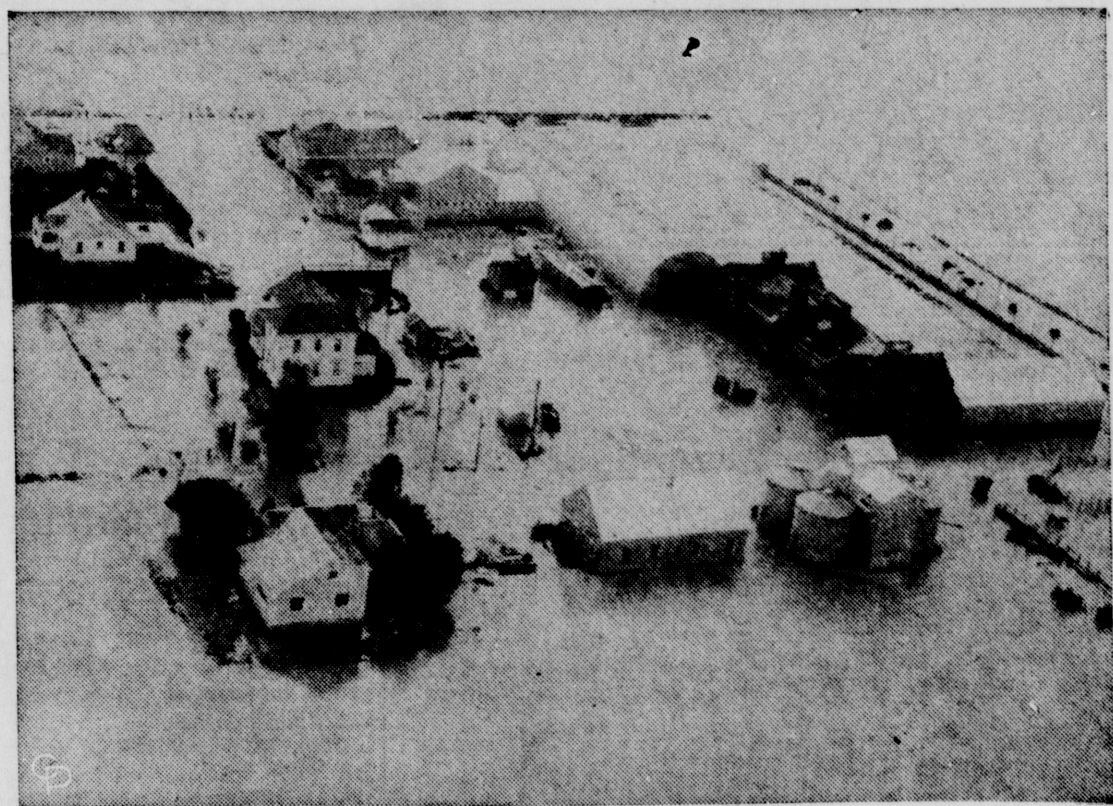

And what appears to be an entire high school football team has offered the shapely young brunette her choice of mountain caves in Oklahoma.

The celebrity of sorts is Lyn Anderson, 19, a tall, tanned Fort Worth girl who prefers animals to people and caves to houses.

She spent nearly three weeks with her dogs and a cat in a cave overlooking scenic Lake Worth before officials evicted her last week.

"I've never cared for people as a whole," she explained. "I like individuals. Most just call me antisocial."

Bonds Are Sold For City School Building Program

The sale of bonds for Circleville's school improvement program as approved by voters in the May primary was completed yesterday afternoon in a bid opening session at the high school.

The successful bid was submitted by a group of seven companies. The bonds sold amounted to $1,968,000, the amount called for in the bond issue.

Bids were submitted by groups of financial firms. Accepted by the City Board of Education was the one offered by the group comprised of the Ohio Co., McDonald & Co., Prescott & Co., First of Michigan Corp., Fulton, Reid & Co., Inc., Manley, Bennett, McDonald & Co. and Bache & Co.

All bids were submitted at a rate of 4 1/4 per cent. The one accepted here listed a premium of $17,013.

IN ALL, nine groups of firms took part in the bidding. Representatives from several were present for yesterday's session.

Provisions for depository of the school improvement program's inactive funds were made during the School Board's regular meeting last night. Bids were submitted by and awarded to the First, Second and Third National Banks and The Savings Bank.

School Superintendent Fritz Jacobs said approximately $1,900,000 of the inactive improvement funds will be invested until they are actually needed for building expenditure purposes. The money was awarded to the local banks relative to the capital assets of each.

Jacobs said the bonds should be received here later this month. They will be deposited as soon as possible after the receiving date.

In other business concerning the school improvement program, the Board approved preliminary plans for the High St. and Mount St. Elementary School projects. School officials currently are working out various planning stages for the new high school and other elementary additions.

According to Jacobs, the administration should be ready to let bids on elementary projects

Augustine Gangs Attack Race March

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP)—Gangs of screaming white men and youths attacked white and Negro marchers with fists and feet in bold defiance of the law in this old city.

The slugging, kicking attacks moved in on their victims—marching two abreast on a downtown sidewalk—and then fled when policemen armed with clubs moved in Tuesday night.

About a dozen demonstrators were assaulted. The violence ended when marchers returned to the church where they began their protest.

Police headquarters said there were no arrests.

The march came within a few hours after a federal judge in Jacksonville ordered police to lift their ban on night demonstrations and to reduce bail for a group of marchers arrested earlier.

"Despite what happened, we are going to continue protesting unjust discrimination," said the leader of the march, the Rev. Andrew Young.

Young was struck in the mouth, knocked down and beaten but not hurt seriously. Wiping at a cut on his lip, Young shrugged off questions whether he would ask for federal protection.

He is an aide to the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, who was scheduled to arrive here today.

Lausche Raps Criticism of Dictatorships

CLEVELAND (AP)—Declaring that he was weary of criticism of the Franco government of Spain and Salazar in Portugal, U. S. Sen. Frank J. Lausche told governors attending their national conference here it seems there are many persons "who would prefer Communism to anti-communist friends."

This nation can no longer be particular about choosing allies to combat the growing communist menace, the former Ohio governor said at a formal state dinner Tuesday night. Lausche filled the spot that had been set for President Johnson at the main social event of the 56th annual conference. The President was unable to fit the conference into his schedule.

"Too often," Lausche said, "there has been repetition of the statement that the purpose of the communist bloc is to destroy our nation and participate in its burial. I, of course have a disbelief in dictatorships; however, if a foreign people are to have a dictatorship, I would want it friendly to the west, not allied to the communist bloc."

"As for Cuba," he continued, "we should not be laboring with the idea that Castro, our enemy, should be removed, not by a friendly right-wing dictatorship, but only by a democratic form of government favorable to our cause. The latter situation, of course, would be the preferable one, but if that is not attainable it will be to our advantage to have a government, whatever its form, that is hostile to the communist bloc."

Boy, 4, Is Forced To Kill His Father

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Police say a shot fired by a 4-year-old boy fatally wounded his father.

The father, Leonard Thierry, 32, forced his son, Glen, to shoot him after threatening to spank the boy with a belt, police reported.

Thierry died Tuesday.

He and his wife had quarreled Sunday night. She left home. Thierry asked two of the couple's older children to shoot him in the head. They refused.

Glen also refused until threatened with the spanking.

After the shooting, officers found Mrs. Thierry and returned the children to her care.

Senate Orders End To Rights Filibuster

U.S. Warning Awaits Greece

Special Envoy Eyes Crisis on Cyprus

GENEVA (AP)—President Johnson has ordered Undersecretary of State George W. Ball to fly to Athens to warn the Greek government of the serious view the United States takes of the sharpening crisis over Cyprus, American officials said today.

Ball was to leave Geneva in an American military plane today.

He may go later to Ankara for talks with Turkish leaders. He was due back in Washington on Thursday to report to the President.

Ball has been in Geneva since Monday for the closing stage of the United Nations trade and development conference.

President Makarios of Cyprus, leader of the Greek Cypriots, called Tuesday night for an urgent meeting of the U.N. Security Council meeting to "denounce threats of the Turkish government to invade our island."

In a note to heads of state and government he charged that Turkey "has now amassed a great number of naval and air forces ready for immediate invasion of Cyprus."

He accused the Turks of repeatedly violating air space over Cyprus and dropping arms to Turkish Cypriots.

Foreign Minister Spyros Kyprianou, dispatched by Makarios to arrange for the council meeting, told newsmen he planned to see Council President Arsene Assouan of the Ivory Coast today.

Kyprianou, whose plane landed in Boston because of weather conditions over New York, said Cyprus was relatively calm, but "in view of statements and information we have, we anticipate trouble from Turkey."

Makarios called for council action after repeated invasion alarms had been sounded in both Nicosia and Athens.

There was no indication in Turkey that an invasion force was poised to attack the island where Turkish and Greek Cypriot factions have been engaged in a bitter struggle. The Ankara government has warned, however, that it would invade if it considered it necessary to protect the rights of Turkish Cypriots.

Distraught Mother Kills 4 Children

MIDLAND, Pa. (AP)—A housewife, apparently distraught after a quarrel with her husband, shot and killed four of her five children today on the outskirts of this western Pennsylvania town, police reported.

The children, three boys and a girl ranging in age from 2 to 5, were each shot once through the heart as they lay in their beds in the basement of the family's partly constructed home in adjoining Ohioville Borough.

They were the children of Mitchell and Mary Zlatovich. He is the brother of the borough police chief, Bernie Zlatovich, who was the first to arrive at the scene just before dawn.

Uncle Sam Gripes About Water Bill

THOMASVILLE, Ga. (AP)—Uncle Sam took on the role of a private citizen here and complained about his water bill.

The director of the Veterans Administration domiciliary, E. C. McDaniel, told city officials the domiciliary's water bill had jumped 84 per cent under a new rate plan and he urgently needed an adjustment.

Otherwise, he said, he would be compelled to readjust his budget to the extent of firing at least one employee.

The commission took the request under consideration with a promise to provide relief if possible.

U.S. Spy Flights In Laos Studied

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—U.S. Ambassador Leonard Unger said today that continuance of American reconnaissance flights over Laos and fighter escorts for the flights is still a matter of decision between him and Premier Souvanna Phouma.

Unger told a news conference he expects to consult with Prince Souvanna Thursday on the flights when the premier returns from an overnight trip to the royal capital of Luang Prabang. Souvanna went there this morning, presumably to brief King Savang Vathana on developments.

The ambassador was commenting on unofficial reports that Souvanna had said he wanted the American reconnaissance flights—which he requested three weeks ago—stopped today.

Unger said he had no formal knowledge of Souvanna's reported desire to have the flights halted. But well-informed sources said no flights had been scheduled for today.

These sources said there had been no plans for daily flights on an indefinite basis. They indicated the purpose of the reconnaissance missions—to spot Communist military concentrations—might have been achieved but that further periodic flights might be needed for checks.

Souvanna indicated to newsmen Tuesday that he had not given authorization for armed fighters to escort the photo planes. The U.S. decision to provide armed fighter cover for the unarmed planes has stirred a controversy in Vientiane.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman said earlier the decision to provide fighter cover had been made on consultation with Souvanna's government.

Unger reaffirmed he had consulted with Souvanna regarding protection for the reconnaissance planes but declined to elaborate.

Souvanna said he had proposed that Laotian air force fighters escort the American photo jets.

Vote Next Week Seen

Ohioans in Favor, Goldwater Against

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate voted today, in a history-shattering move, to choke off the 75-day old Southern filibuster against the civil rights bill.

Each senator's time to debate the bill and all amendments will now be limited to one hour. This appears to assure Senate passage of the far-reaching bill, possibly before the end of next week.

The House passed the bill on Feb. 10 by a vote of 290-130. The Senate has been battling over it since March 9, with Southern opponents mounting a record-breaking filibuster against it.

The Senate's public galleries were packed as the crucial vote on cloture was taken. Tight security was maintained around the Capitol as additional persons pressed for a chance to get in.

The vote followed an all-night session of the Senate at which Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., made a marathon speech attacking the civil rights bill and urging his colleagues not to shut off the debate.

The vote to apply the Senate's debate-limiting cloture rule was 71 to 29. This was four more votes than the required two-thirds majority.

Voting for cloture were 44 Democrats and 27 Republicans. Opposed were 23 Democrats and 6 Republicans. One of the Republicans voting no was Sen. (Continued on Page Two)

President Applauds As Luci Does Frug

WASHINGTON (AP)—With President Johnson leading the clapping beat, his 16-year-old daughter demonstrated the Frugal for a delighted White House audience.

The guests crowded about in a circle to watch Luci and her partner, Ricky Keeton, 17, of Houston, Tex., do the twisting rhythm at a late dancing party Tuesday night.

Young Peter Duchin, son of the famed bandleader, Eddie Duchin was playing one of his own versions of the twists, which he calls "The Frugal," when it all started.

Johnson Clan's Wealth Not Tops in White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Lyndon B. Johnsons are doing quite well financially—what with an estimated wealth of more than $9 million—but don't get the idea they are the richest family ever to inhabit the White House.

Who, then, was our best-heeled president? It's hard to figure—because of the changing values of money and other factors—but all evidence points to George Washington.

When the father of his country died he left real estate valued then at $530,000, including the famous Mount Vernon. Translated into today's values that might mean $20 million or more.

Though Washington was rich in land, slaves and tobacco, he was sometimes short of cash. In fact, just before his first inauguration, he had to hit a fellow townsman in Alexandria, Va., up for a loan of 600 pounds, at 6 per cent interest.

"Short crops and other causes not entirely within my control" had temporarily strapped him, he said.

Second richest president may be Herbert Hoover, though this is not known with any certainty. An engineer and mining promoter, he rolled up a $6-million fortune as early as 1914. There is no exact information how this has grown since, though it is

Mrs. Steele Resigns Post; Board Hires New Teachers

Mrs. Hazel Steele, a teacher in the city school system since 1923, submitted her resignation to the Circleville Board of Education last night.

Accepting Mrs. Steele's resignation, Board members commended her long term of duties and service to the school system. She served as teacher and principal at Corwin St. Elementary.

The resignation was one of two accepted by the Board Tuesday night. The other was by Robert M. Long who taught American history and government in the high school.

Action on the resignations was followed by approval to hire three new teachers.

DALE AMBOS was employed to teach mathematics in the high school and serve as freshman football coach. He is a 1964 graduate of Capital University where he earned a BS degree in education.

Brent Bell, a graduate of Circleville High School, was hired as a 7th grade teacher at S. Court St. Elementary, and will serve as an assistant coach for Junior High football. He will receive his BA degree in education this summer at Ohio University.

Mrs. Elaine Poling was employed as a half-time relief teacher at Mount St. Elementary. She will relieve Mrs. Elsie Bell who will now serve as a relief teacher at Atwater Elementary.

Superintendent Fritz Jacobs said actual vacancies within the school system now stand at a Latin-English teacher in the high school, a commercial teacher and an elementary replacement for Mrs. Steele. He said interviews with applicants have been scheduled.

In other business, Herbert Barrett was re-appointed treasurer of the school activity fund. A request for enrollment of a first grade student on a tuition basis was temporarily denied due to anticipated high student entries. The final decision will depend on results of an enrollment re-evaluation in August.

Two new text books, representing new courses, were adopted. They are "New Second Year French" and "Analytic Geometry."

SUPERINTENDENT Jacobs informed the Board that he has been advised to await the outcome of a new school bus purchase program on the state level before taking steps to buy a new vehicle. This information was directed here by the State Department of Education.

Additional agenda items included the Board's approval for installation of fluorescent lighting in three to five rooms in the high school. The program has been to install the light facilities on a year-by-year basis until all rooms are so equipped.

A service contract for maintenance of school typewriters by the Baker Co. of Lancaster was approved.

Jacobs reported that the high school's completed course of study has been set and will be filed with the State Department of Education.

The Board moved that the Budget Meeting be scheduled for July 14, the same date as the next regular session.

Vote Next

Barry Goldwater of Arizona, the leading contender for his party's presidential nomination.

Both Ohio senators, Stephen M. Young and Frank J. Lausche, voted with the majority.

Byrd began his speech at 7:38 p.m. and continued until 9:52 a.m. When he finally quit, the Senate took an eight-minute recess, then went back into session. It had agreed Tuesday to meet at 10 a.m. today.

Since the adoption of the cloture rule in 1917, all previous attempts to use it to cut off a filibuster against a civil rights bill had failed.

Leaders of both parties became convinced in the face of the all-out opposition of the Dixie forces to the present bill that debate-limitation had to be obtained if the bill was to pass.

Just before the vote, Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois introduced the leaders' substitute bill worked out with Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Overnight, the substitute had been revised further to include the jury trial amendment adopted 51-48 in the Senate Tuesday.

The adoption of the amendment, sponsored by Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky., was credited with winning some crucial Republican votes for cloture.

Off-the-floor maneuvering continued right up to the hour of the vote.

Nearly 500 amendments have been proposed in addition to a package of amendments which Democratic and Republican leaders have drafted as a substitute for the House-passed measure.

Supporters of the civil rights measure won their biggest victories Tuesday in votes on the equal employment opportunity section, regarded as perhaps the most controversial part of the legislation.

By a vote of 64 to 33, the Senate defeated an amendment by Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., to strike out this section prohibiting discrimination in employment on account of race, color, religion, sex, or national origin. It would apply to employers, labor unions and employment agencies.

A-Power Breakthrough Is Achieved by U.S.

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — President Johnson said today the United States has achieved an economic breakthrough in producing power from large-scale nuclear reactors. He said this knowledge will be shared with the world.

Johnson cited the advancements in power reactor technology in addressing commencement exercises at Holy Cross College.

"In the past several months we have achieved an economic breakthrough in the use of large-scale reactors for commercial power," he said. "As a result of this rapid progress we are years ahead of our planned progress. This new technology, now being applied in the United States, will be available to the world."

Police estimated that at least 150,000 people turned out on Worcester's streets to welcome the President, who stopped his closed limousine once to make a hand-shaking tour in the crowd.

He said in his commencement address after he was awarded an honorary doctorate in civil law that many of the world's most urgent problems will persist beyond the cold war. He outlined a far-flung program for attacking them.

He said he intends to dedicate 1965 to the search for new techniques to make man's knowledge serve man's welfare.

To commemorate the United Nations' 20th birthday, 1965 has been designated as International Cooperation Year.

He took note of that in a speech prepared for commencement exercises at Holy Cross College.

"Let this be the year of science, let it be the turning point in the struggle—not of man against man, but of man against nature. In the midst of tension, let us begin to chart a course toward the possibilities of conquest which bypass the politics of the cold war," he said.

"For our part, we intend to call upon all the resources of this nation—public and private—to work with other nations to find new methods of improving the life of man."

Johnson spoke of poverty, of disease, and of diminishing natural resources in enumerating

Failing 5th Grader Going to College

COCOA, Fla. (AP) — Billy Green, who is failing his fifth grade subjects, is going to college this summer.

Billy, 12, scored 200 on an intelligence test administered by the University of South Florida. The genius category starts at 140.

County school Supt. Woodrow Garden said Billy reads eight to 12 advanced science books a week but struggles with his fifth grade work, perhaps because it doesn't challenge him.

The board of Brevard Junior College voted Tuesday to allow Billy to enroll in one course.

Billy, son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Green of Eau Gallie, Fla., probably will take a mathematics or science course.

"We want to determine what kind of program he should have," said Garden.

2nd Distribution Of License Money Is Announced

State Auditor Roger W. Tracy today announced the second distribution of 1964 auto license money, totaling $7,704,767, to the political subdivisions of the state.

Broken down, the payment included $4,953,064.50 which went to the counties under the provisions of the Wheeler act whereby nine per cent of the money is distributed upon the basis of road mileage in the respective county to the statewide county road mileage.

The balance of $2,751,702.50 went to the townships as their five per cent share, upon the basis of the ratio of the township road mileage to the total of all township road mileage in the state.

The current distribution makes for a total of $55,034,050 paid to the subdivisions this year, up $1,490,680 over the same period last year.

Checks covering the distributions were sent to the county auditors for redistribution to the respective subdivisions.

Pickaway County's share was $37,716.88 while the townships here will receive $28,467.05.

Farm Prices Dip

This seems destined to be another year of downward prices on farm commodities. In April the farm price level dipped to 75 per cent of parity, lowest point reached on the parity standard since August, 1939.

Surveys by the Agriculture Department and farm groups show a number of independent factors working toward lower farm prices, some of them affecting major crops. If these forces materialize as expected, this year may be another poor one for farmers.

A 14-month drop in cattle prices has pulled beef-on-the-hoof to the lowest prices in many years and has made it practically impossible for cattlemen to avoid a loss. The cattle industry is drawing the closest concern in agricultural circles, and its position, is not benefited by liberal imports of beef from abroad.

But a number of other commodities are also showing an imbalance leading to a drop in farm prices. Soybean production and stocks are on the increase, depressing market prices. The wheat crop, still an unknown harvest, nevertheless is expected to bring sharply lower prices than a year ago.

Under the new wheat-cotton bill taking effect on July 1, wheat crop supports will drop from the 1963 level of $1.82 a bushel to $1.30. Barring a severe curtailment of the harvest this year because of drought, the market price of wheat will fall.

Cotton price supports will drop about two cents a pound under the new law, probably triggering a downward price trend in the intertwining cotton industries, which also incidentally are heavily battered by imports. Hog prices are about the only major index showing an upward trend, because fewer animals are being produced this year.

Offsetting in part the decline in market prices for this wide range of farm commodities will be sizable increases in direct subsidies of one type or another, paid by Washington to the farmer. Such subsidies have grown rapidly in the last three and one-half years. This year they will reach an outlay of $2.5 billion, or about five times the annual average during the Eisenhower administration.

With all this pump-priming, farm income this year is expected to be less than last year's $12.3 billion. The already low-margin average farmer will find himself pinching pennies harder than ever this year. The only trouble is, there aren't many pennies left to pinch.

'Do Unto Others . . . '

Two recent events in New York shocked many in Columbus. One was the stalking and murdering of a young woman, whose repeated screams and cries for help were ignored by scores of residents who "didn't want to get involved." The other incident was similar . . . a young woman attacked and abused in daylight while passersby ignored her screams. Shocked as all of us were, we no doubt thought: "That's New York . . . it couldn't happen here."

Couldn't it? We are not so sure now. You see, the other day one of our co-workers — Gene Fullen — became desperately ill while driving on the Sandusky interchange. Pulling his car over onto the shoulder of the road, Fullen managed to stumble out of the car. He was barely able to stand, and for several minutes feebly waved a handkerchief at the passing cars. For those of you who have not heard of it, that is a distress signal. Not one stopped. No one apparently cared enough to offer aid to this human being who was obviously in some sort of trouble. It was not until one of our own employees came upon the scene and recognized the man in trouble, that help was forthcoming. Gene Fullen, as you may know, had suffered a heart seizure that morning and if he had been any later in getting to the hospital, we might not have been able to report that he is recovering rapidly. The point of this editorial is that we are in danger of losing part of the precious undefinable something which makes us human when we ignore a fellow man in mortal peril. What ever happened to the golden rule?

This editorial was prepared and presented by WTVN-TV and WTVN-Radio in Columbus.

A Battle Is Never Remembered

NEW YORK (AP) — Nobody remembers war altogether as it happened. No one can tell the truth of a battlefield.

They forget its actuality as they grow older, and change it to suit their age.

Nobody can find out the true story of combat, not even five minutes after an event occurs.

A battlefield is a great mystery while it is being fought. No one has the full story then or later.

There is an involvement with the enemy. The chaos of clash is immediate; it can never be accurately reassembled by recall. Too much happens all at once.

That is why I feel a bit sorry for those who went back to Normandy last week for the 20th anniversary of one of mankind's more memorable military adventures.

Going back to a place you knew in war is a journey even more lonesome in peace than it was when the ignition of danger and the purpose of a mutual endeavor threw a glare upon the commonplace. You can never quite find what you look for.

I found this to be true when I went back to France five years after it was invaded by the Allies. I found it even more true when I went back 10 years after.

It was my wish to return again last week two decades after those strident days of thunder and nights of flare when the breaking of the St. Lo position wheeled the Allies toward victory.

But I knew it would be a visit into the lost, a stroll into legend. The moment a situation in war changes, it is gone forever. The fact of war defeats the recognition of it.

In combat, more than anywhere else in life, you can never go home again. There are too many variances of viewpoints for them ever to be fully reconciled.

Two return to the scene of action. Even if it be but an hour all is different. What actually happened there? One knows a part of it, another knows another part of it, and neither knows all.

Once the bodies are picked up the blood is dried, the position is changed, the vehicles are regrouped, the possible truth is forever gone.

Give a battlefield a few days, or months, or years, and what really happened there is even more impossible to find out.

The soldier returns and looks across a field where the grass and trees have renewed their greenery and forgotten their scars; where the stinking bodies of cows inflated by death have been removed, where a farmer walks in duty where a foe once held a direness.

The soldier says: "Yes, it was there that I, we, or, no, was over there that? Anyway, I'll never forget—Don't you remember that the both of us—I think you were with me when—I all comes back so clear that—"

But his honest reach for the truth is clouded by conjecture. It all looks so different.

Landscapes forget the people who fight across them. People who try to remember the landscapes they fought across can never come back afterward and be quite sure that this is the exact place where once they felt they learned more about life and death than they ever could afterward.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

WHEN THE Milwaukee Braves came up with a fine new catcher named Torre, a stream of puns by the sports-writers began at once. Most horrendous concerned an occasion when a runner came steaming into home plate with his spikes flying, and Torre allegedly backed away and failed to tag him. The manager came storming from the dugout to holler, "What's the matter? Are you chicken, Catcher Torre?"

A personable minister turned in his resignation to a prosperous pastorate in the South, explaining later, "There were 37 girls, widows, and old maids there, all determined to marry me!"

"But don't you know," asked a friend, "that there is supposed to be safety in numbers?"

"Not for me," smiled the minister. "I found mine in Exodus."

An impetuous young man deliberately threw three pairs of trousers into the furnace one Sunday, then told his wife, "No longer can you accuse me of being a stick-in-the-mud, unwilling to take a chance. I have just burned my breeches behind me."

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

My husband, 56, had a coronary heart attack. It is now almost three months since he left the hospital, and the doctor says he is well. But he is still afraid to do the slightest work in the office or at home. I am worried that he will never be "himself" again. What can be done?

Mrs. S. H. R., Arizona

Dear Mrs. R.: Your story is a common one and characterizes the anxiety of many heart attack patients who make themselves "chronic heart invalids."

Undoubtedly your husband's physician has been encouraging him to return to limited activity without undue exertion or pressure.

Unfortunately simple assurance and permission, even from a doctor, are often not enough to convince an individual that he is safe in resuming many of his normal functions.

"Rehabilitative specialists" must sometimes be consulted in order to restore a cardiac patient to his full functioning capacity, both emotionally and physically.

Psychological support, assurance, reassurance and an understanding of the emotions of a "cardiac" are the basis for the total rehabilitation of the patient.

It takes the combined efforts and patience of the family and professional guidance counselors to accomplish this monumental task.

But all the energy expended is well rewarded by the renewed confidence with which a former cardiac patient again takes his dignified place in the home, on the job and in the community.

I am 28 years old. When I was 19, I developed syphilis. I was treated and pronounced cured. Now I want to get married. Is it safe for my wife-to-be? Will we be able to have children? Should I tell my fiancée?

K. A. R., Florida

Dear Mr. R.: When the disease of syphilis is pronounced cured, the patient must still be kept under surveillance. Repeat periodic blood studies are a valuable safeguard for yourself and your family.

It is for this reason that premarital blood tests for syphilis are mandatory.

If the Wasserman, Mazzini and other tests for syphilis are consistently negative, it can be reasonably assumed that your wife will be safe from possible syphilitic infection.

Whether you can or can not have children depends entirely on how early the treatment was started after the onset of the infection.

Honesty and frankness are fundamental to a successful marriage. Starting off with the bluish of falsehood undermines the total foundation of a marriage.

An open discussion before the wedding between you, your fiancée and your doctor will relieve your anxieties, strengthen your understanding, and give great support to a happy relationship.

Nikita's Fourth Attempt

Three times in recent years, Nikita Khrushchev has planned a royal Bolshevik progress through Scandinavia — and three times he has been scared out of it. Now, after gingerly testing the atmosphere for a fourth time, he has decided that he can undertake a Scandinavian trek without risking too much insult.

The program for the visit, however, does not exhibit too much trust that a warm welcome will be forthcoming. In Denmark, for the scheduled June 17-21 stay, all the 475 rooms of the Hotel Royal in Copenhagen have been engaged for the Khrushchev party and for a world meeting of Danish consuls. This means that the common people won't be able to get very close to the self-described leader of the world proletariat.

In Sweden Khrushchev will live from June 22 to June 27 at the royal Haga Palace on the outskirts of Stockholm. The place is already under heavy surveillance by the police.

In Norway, from June 28 to July 2, Khrushchev will occupy the royal property of Bygdoy Kongsgaard outside of Oslo. A bomb, found in the open, has already been removed from Bygdoy Kongsgaard — obviously, it was placed there as a symbolic warning. Because of this and other manifestations of distaste for his presence, Khrushchev will move about in Scandinavia by helicopter and bulletproof motor car.

Why all the elaborate precautions lest something might happen to annoy Khrushchev? The reasons go back to 1956, 1959 and 1963, when Scandinavians, the Swedes in particular, promised to greet Khrushchev by spitting at him or by turning their backs on him whenever he appeared in public. This time the plan of the dissidents who don't want to see the boss Communist on Scandinavian soil is a little more restrained, for it contemplates only a silent treatment. An ad hoc committee of non-welcome, called the June Committee, has been set up under the well-known archivist Professor Birger Nerman. The first act of this committee has been to recall the visit of Czar Nicholas II to Sweden in 1909. Then unpopular because of pogroms and suppression of popular demonstrations, the Czar was met with stony silence everywhere. The June Committee asks that this be repeated for Khrushchev.

In 1959, when Khrushchev called off a proposed trip at the eleventh hour, 100,000 copies of an anti-Soviet folder were ready for distribution in the three Scandinavian languages.

Professor Nerman's June Committee has been busy preparing another folder for present distribution. The folder articles bear such titles as "Khrushchev in Luxury and Gala — the Balts in Slavery and Hunger," by Professor Nerman; "Appeal to Mr. Khrushchev on Behalf of the Balts," by Manne Stahl; "Suppose Hitler Had Obtained His Victorious Peace in 1940," by Ture Nerman, who incidentally compares the two big totalitarian systems; "What We Should Not Forget," by Birger Hagard, who is chairman of the Swedish Conservative Youth Organization of 60,000 members and who keeps a catalogue of Soviet misdeeds in East Europe up to date; and a survey of Soviet deportations and violations of human rights in the Baltic states.

The battle to greet Khrushchev with a barrage of antipathetic gestures does not have the support of the Scandinavian governments. But, with the editor-in-chief of Morgenbladet, the largest Norwegian daily, on the June Committee's side, and with prominent members of all the Scandinavian democratic political parties putting their names on an anti-Khrushchev manifesto, nobody is suggesting that the right of free speech — or free silence — be infringed. The antis point out that Khrushchev's visit is designed to create propaganda for the Kekkone plan for establishing a nuclear free zone in all states bordering on the Baltic Sea, and for the withdrawal of Denmark and Norway from NATO. They insist that a counter propaganda is quite in order. But their real desire is to scare Khrushchev out of his fourth effort to visit Scandinavia.

Any bets that they won't be successful?

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP) — Rising metal prices reflect both the increasing industrial demand and higher production costs. So far little of the rise has been passed along to the consumer. Manufacturers have been able to lower the labor cost per unit of output.

Thus basic commodity price increases in themselves don't necessarily spell general inflation.

Involved have been steel, aluminum, copper, zinc, lead, tin. The creeping advance has been stretched over the last 12 months.

At first the increases were on selected products in active demand. Weakness in other products has brought price cuts.

But basic metal prices are now beginning to rise. Latest are aluminum ingots which are going up half a cent to 24 cents a pound, or back to where they were in December 1962, but still short of the 26 cents a pound of September 1961.

The cautious approach in aluminum and some other metals has been dictated by competition both at home and abroad.

Many metal producers have indicated no hurry to cripple demand by pricing their products higher than the substitutes which increasingly plague them.

Technological advances have brought individual metals in competition with each other for particular uses. Price often can be the determining factor with purchasing agents.

Metals also have had rough going in recent years as their markets were invaded by plastics, glass, concrete and wood.

Metals are peculiarly tied to developments in foreign lands. Sometimes this is surplus capacity to produce, so that foreign output rises automatically with world demand, leaving American producers right where they were competitively. Often cheaper production costs abroad threaten American metal price structures.

Movie Made in Ohio Is 1964 Cinderella Film

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Last year it was "David and Lisa." This year "One Potato, Two Potatoes" is the Cinderella film. Both films were created against great odds by two movie makers using unknown actors and authentic backgrounds. Both were treated like orphans until film festival honors stirred interest in their commercial possibilities.

"One Potato, Two Potatoes" was made by two veterans of Hollywood television — producer Sam Weston, 36, lookalike brother of comedian Jack Weston, and director Larry Pearce, 34, son of famed tenor Jan Peerce. Yet the film is not of Hollywood, nor does it deal with a subject that the major studios would ordinarily touch.

Its theme is miscegenation. A white Midwestern divorcee with a daughter marries a fellow factory worker who is a Negro. Her first husband appears after having deserted her, and he sues for custody of the child. The judge decides in favor of the father.

Life Term Given For Aiding Reds

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — George John Gessner, 28, a nuclear weapons maintenance technician, was convicted Tuesday of giving restricted information to Russian agents and was immediately sentenced to life in prison.

The life sentence was recommended by the jury that received the case Monday afternoon. The jury of eight men and four women had the option of recommending a sentence of death, of life imprisonment or to leave the sentence to the judge.

U.S. Dist. Judge Arthur J. Stanley pronounced sentence immediately.

Mississippi Delays Trial for Ohio Cleric

HATTIESBURG, Miss. (AP) — The cases of five white ministers, including one from Ohio, and two Negroes charged with violating Mississippi's new anti-picketing law have been continued until the July term of county court. The ministers, free on bond, include David A. Waters, 42, of Cincinnati.

The seven men were arrested May 18 while picketing outside the Forrest County Courthouse during a voter registration drive.

WEDDING KISS—Princess Desiree of Sweden is kissed by her husband, Baron Niclas Silfverschoeld, as they leave the church after their wedding in Stockholm.

Congo Is Shaken by Continuing Woes

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Lights burn late at U.N. headquarters in Leopoldville. Senior officers of the world organization's Congo army wear harassed and even guilty looks.

The Congo apparently is heading for dark and violent days, but they are getting out. By June 30, the Congo's fourth independence day, the last of 3,405 U.N. soldiers from 12 nations will have gone home, their job finished.

In Kivu, on the Congo's eastern border, Communist-backed pygmy-like Bafulero warriors routed five companies of Congolese soldiers and threatened Bukavu, the provincial capital.

At Albertville, capital of North Katanga, a short-lived revolt against Provincial President Jason Sendwe took more than 100 lives. Wives of two U.N. civilians were raped.

Farther west, young warriors invaded the South Kasai town of Mwene-Ditu and murdered five citizens by forcing them to swallow pills, a tiny, fiendishly hot red pepper used to season food.

To the north, Stanleyville, once the late Premier Patrice Lumumba's area and still a hotbed of extremism, seethes with discontent. The central government has named a resident minister to supervise Provincial President Paul Isombuma, deposed by his provincial assembly but reinstated by Leopoldville.

In the center, Peking-trained ex-Education Minister Pierre Mulele leads a rebellion in Kwilu. His warriors also burn and kill in neighboring provinces.

In Leopoldville, nightfall turns more than 1.2 million people into prisoners inside their homes.

A dusk-to-dawn curfew is the government's answer to plastic bomb attacks against churches, electric power installations and the capital's railroad to the sea. Saboteurs made an unsuccessful bid to blow down the wall of Makala prison in broad daylight.

Across the river in Brazzaville, capital of the Congo's sister republic, exiled extremists plot Premiere Cyrille Adoula's violent overthrow, bribing soldiers to act as hired assassins.

"These are the darkest days since 1960," declares one high U.N. officer, recalling the Congolese army mutiny only seven days after independence which sent the country into an orgy of killing, looting, raping, destruction and secession.

That brought the United Nations here.

Its rank and file soldiers do not try to conceal their impatience to be gone. Departure dates are ringed with red on wall calendars.

It can be argued that putting down the rebellions in Kivu and Kwilu is no business of the United Nations.

"Lots of countries have internal security problems," says a U.N. political official who insists on remaining anonymous. "We have to leave one day—we can't stay here forever."

To a large extent, the Congo's present woes are unfinished business. Four years of crisis-ridden independence have been too short to solve deep-rooted tribal, political and economic questions.

Add to this the bewilderment of the ordinary Congolese trying desperately to belong to the 20th century. All the wisdom of his tribal forebears means nothing when he confronts the complexities of modern society.

Add to this a leadership crisis that was inevitable the day this vast, rich nation was handed by its Belgian colonial rulers to 14 million people of whom less than a score had university degrees and even fewer any real experience of accepting responsibility.

Almost all observers are agreed that Adoula and some of his close collaborators have grown in political stature in battling for survival.

But their measures to keep the country afloat have been misunderstood by the bulk of Congolese. The leaders are unpopular.

Piling on the agony is the inefficiency of corruption, laziness and tribal favoritism displayed by the administration Adoula commands. He rarely knows whether his subordinates will obey him. Ministers fight viciously among themselves.

Next comes racism. Most Congolese know that their country cannot survive without help from white technicians. But they resent it.

On the other side of the racial coin, many whites still lump all Congolese into the "macaque" (monkey) category.

Top this off with a lavish dash of cold war—Peking style. Most experts on communism here are convinced the Chinese are flexing their muscles in Africa, probing for weaknesses.

The sum of all these factors equals indifference by a lot of Congolese toward their country's ultimate fate.

Perhaps the greatest tragedy is that the Congo, thanks to energetic government measures and foreign aid, was on the brink of economic recovery when assailed by the Communist-supported revolts in Kwilu and Kivu.

TOW TECHNIQUE—An Army "Mule" utility vehicle is towed through the air with the greatest of ease in a demonstration in San Diego, Calif., of the Ryan Wing Air Cargo Delivery System. The vehicle is driven to a clearing, secured to a Flexible Wing, which is attached to the helicopter by cable, and towed a short distance until the wing provides enough aerodynamic lift to pick the vehicle off the ground. An automatic flare built into the wing causes an upward rotation just prior to landing, acting as brake for gentle touchdown.

Installation Highlights
Civic Club Dinner Meet

Installation of officers and a guest, Mrs. R. C. Brough of Worthington, New District VII president, highlighted a dinner meeting held by the Ashville Women's Civic Club, a member of the Ohio Federation of Women's Club.

Thirty members and their guests had dinner at the Rush and Opals Party Home, Grove City. Arrangements of roses centered the tables and small baskets containing soap were individually decorated and placed at each place setting.

Following dinner Mrs. Art Deal Jr., president, conducted a brief business meeting and members voted to raise their dues one dollar, effective the first of September. Committees named for the 4th of July celebration were as follows: Float — Mrs. James Irwin, chairman, Mrs. James Umstead, Mrs. Curtis Cromley, and Mrs. Robert Riley; Little Mister and Miss Parade and Beauty Contest — Mrs. Lowell Cooper, chairman, Mrs. Gene VonIns, Mrs. John Little, Mrs. William Trimble and Mrs. Art Deal Jr.

The group discussed plans for the District VII Fall Conference to be held Sept. 30 for which they will be hostesses. A study will be made whether to hold it in one of the churches or two if necessary.

Mrs. Howard Hosler and Mrs. Harold Bowers were asked to audit the books for the past two years.

Following the business meeting Mrs. Brough spoke to the group and discussed plans for the district chairman and committees. Several committees have been abolished or combined with others eliminating so many different ones. Following her talk she installed the newly elected officers assisted by Mrs. Deal. Those installed were Mrs. Don Welsh, treasurer; Mrs. Tom Purcell, corresponding secretary; Mrs. William Snyder, recording secretary; Mrs. Don Flierl, vice-president; and Mrs. James Irwin, president.

Mrs. Deal presented Mrs. Irwin with a president's pin and Mrs. Flierl presented Mrs. Deal with a past-president's bar.

Following the installation games were enjoyed by the group with prizes awarded by the committee, comprised of Mrs. Stella Morrison and Mrs. Alfred Axe. Members of the hospitality committee, Mrs. Jim Courtright, Mrs. John Downs, Mrs. Wayne Bisker, Mrs. Joe Hedges, Mrs. John Little and Mrs. Howard Hosler, were in charge of arrangements and table decorations.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Double Grief

DEAR ABBY: I read about the kind, considerate woman who was given a box of good clothing that once belonged to her dearest friend who had died. She asked you if you thought it might sadden members of her friend's family to see their mother's clothing being worn by someone else. I was pleased that you told her to go ahead and wear them as it would give them pleasure. I know. I lost a beautiful daughter in her early 20's. She had closetsful of lovely clothes. After she passed away, I divided them up and gave them to her friends. I was deeply hurt when I offered a brand new evening gown to one young woman and she replied, "Thanks a lot, but I don't think I could ever put it on. It would give me the creeps."

HURT DEEPLY

DEAR ABBY: When my father died we distributed his clothes to needy men all over town. Dad had a horse blanket type jacket he wore for fishing, which we gave to Old Rudy, the janitor who worked at our plant. One evening mother and I were walking down the street and I spied Old Rudy—who was exactly daddy's size—walking toward us in that familiar fishing jacket. My heart skipped a beat, and I tried to distract mother, not knowing how she would react. She saw him, of course, and then she said to me, "Oh, look. There's Old Rudy in dad's jacket. Wouldn't dad be please to know that Old Rudy is getting some good out of it? Dad always thought so much of him!"

DAD'S GIRL

DEAR ABBY: As is usually the lot of the eldest daughter, I was called upon to dispose of all my mother's usable clothing after she had passed away. My mother, in her lifetime, had always been a very generous person and she was forever giving to those less fortunate than herself. I distributed her clothing among those who were needy. I gave a fine winter wardrobe to mamma's laundress. Several of my friends recognized my mother's good winter coat being worn by this woman. One friend said to me, "Doesn't it bother you to see your mother's clothes again?" I answered, "If I never wanted to see them again, I'd have given everything to the Salvation Army."

NOT BOTHERED

DEAR ABBY: Our mother was as pretty as a picture and was always dressed in the height of fashion and in the most elegant taste. Her weakness was beautiful hats, and she had dozens of them. She died, at 64, two years ago. We gave each of her friends one of mother's lovely hats. Some were ten years old, but still fashionable, and all were as good as new, in their original boxes and tissue. You cannot imagine the joy it brought us when we spotted eight of mother's beautiful hats in church on Easter Sunday.

Wife Preservers

Clay-potted plants and saucers make good "automatic" mops for terraces and patio corners where puddles collect after rains. Simply set plants in puddles and the capillary action of the porous clay pots and saucers will take up excess moisture. It's a good way to water plants at the same time.

The class sang "In the Garden" and Miss Gladys Noggle offered prayer. The altar vases will be filled June 21 in memory of Mrs. Zwicker.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved and Mrs. Hazel Merz gave the treasurer's report. The class was asked to give cookies for the Daily Vacation Bible School.

Mrs. Charles Ater gave a reading in tribute to her husband. Mrs. Ruby Sowers asked that her name be placed on the inactive list.

Scripture was read from the June calendar and prayer was given by Mrs. Hazel Shelton.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater provided Republican governors with a booklet when some of them wanted clarification on where he stood on the issues. This wasn't a very flattering thing to do to them.

It was like telling them they would know where he stood if they had paid attention and read this booklet: "Sen. Goldwater Speaks Out On the Issues." It had been in circulation nationwide for weeks.

Nevertheless, Goldwater has not always been consistent in what he said over the past few years. This doesn't bother him. He himself has said: "Consistency is not necessarily a virtue."

He said there was something wrong with a public man who didn't change his mind "to meet the developments of the times." In the 1950s he said former President Harry S. Truman had "fathered all the misdeeds of recent years" and was the "architect of everything wrong with America today."

In 1963, he said America needs another decisive president like Truman who, he thought, would go down in history as one of the greatest presidents.

In 1963, Goldwater, who proudly calls himself a conservative, said the true one seeks progress based on proven values of the past while the "so-called liberal" is one who seeks change for the sake of change alone. In 1964 he said he thinks history will rate him a liberal.

In 1962, he said as president he would seriously consider transporting Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist troops from Formosa to the Red China mainland for an invasion. But the next year he said the problem was how to get them there.

Last February he was for using warships to halt the shipment of British buses and French products to Cuba but a month later said he would try to discourage Allied trade with Fidel Castro by "example and use of diplomatic pressure."

In 1961, Goldwater talked of landing armed forces in Cuba to throw out Castro and in 1963 of a blockade, support of Cuban exile attacks, and invasion by the Organization of American States and by "ourselves."

He even thought, he said, he would be for doing "anything necessary to get rid of that cancer (Castro). If it means war, let it mean war." But this year he said "the suggestion that we must either accept communism in Cuba or invade Cuba is defeatist and dangerous nonsense."

He had said it was improper for the government to intervene in school desegregation or to use troops to enforce desegregation orders of the courts. But by last month he changed his view, said "I'm glad when I can recognize I'm wrong."

When he first came to the Senate in 1953, he was all for changing the filibuster rules to cut off lengthy debates. He changed and now says he won't vote to end the anti-civil rights filibuster now in its 75th day.

He said if he was president he would break off diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union but last January added he would need Senate approval to do this. He couldn't have been more wrong.

The Senate must approve treaties but not breaking off diplomatic relations.

He stopped advocating putting Social Security on a voluntary basis and now says his only interest in the system is to improve it by making the pension dollar sound. After he lost the New Hampshire primary in March, his campaign manager said his talk of a voluntary Social Security system was a major boner.

He favors getting rid of the "whole graduated income tax" so that rich and poor pay the same percentage of tax. But the American income tax has always been graduated from the time of the first one in Civil War days under President Abraham Lincoln.

In 1962 and 1963, Goldwater favored getting out of the United Nations. By the latter part of 1963, he was for staying in. By 1964 he said he couldn't recall ever having suggested getting out.

Between 1960 and 1964 Goldwater said so many times he would not seek the Republican presidential nomination that as late as Sept. 15, 1963, he said, "I've said a thousand times I'm going to run for the Senate, nothing more."

But just 11 days before that The Associated Press reported Goldwater had rented the entire 15th floor of a hotel in San Francisco for next month which is when the Republicans hold their nomination convention there.

Then on Jan. 3, 1964, he announced his candidacy and at the same time said he would run for the Senate from Arizona, too, although he had derided Lyndon B. Johnson for running for the vice presidency and the Senate in 1960.

He had said he wouldn't seek both. Now he says he will give up the Senate race if he gets the presidential nomination.

Court Order Curbs Chillicothe Walkout

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP)—A sympathy strike at the Aluminum Co. of America's plants here and at six other sites throughout the nation has been averted for the time being.

Common Pleas Court Judge Howard Goldsberry issued a temporary restraining order Tuesday a few hours before some 200 workers at the Chillicothe plant planned to walk out. Goldsberry said there could be no strike action until further notice.

Girls State Officials Approve Integration

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Buckeye Girls State, sponsored by the Ohio American Legion Auxiliary, will have integrated sleeping quarters from now on, says Mrs. O. Linn Perry of Akron, director of the girls' annual statewide meeting.

Her announcement Tuesday affects the annual meeting in Columbus June 20 to 28 at Capital University. About 1,259 girls State officials were criticized last summer by the Columbus branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People for having segregated sleeping quarters.

The Ashville Pythian Sisters will meet for the last time 8 p. m. Tuesday before recessing for the summer.

Bob Forquer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Forquer, Route 2, Ashville, suffered a broken leg June 3 when the truck that he was a passenger in was struck on Route 23 just north of South Bloomfield. Driver of the truck was Ed Crites, Route 2, Ashville.

The Past Chief's of the Ashville Pythian Lodge will meet June 18 for a smorgasbord dinner at the Worthington Inn, north of Columbus.

The Bastian Funeral Home made the following ambulance runs this past week: June 2 — moved Ort Drum, Route 4, Circleville, to Berger Hospital for X-ray and returned him home; June 3 — moved J. T. Ball, Route 2, Ashville, to Mercy Hospital, and Florence Kain, 1572 Aberdeen Ave., Columbus, and Neva Geiser, 1575 Aberdeen Ave., Columbus, to Mercy Hospital, following an accident on Route 23; June 8 — moved Mrs. Alfred Axe, 137 E. Gay St., Ashville, to Riverside Hospital; and June 9 — moved Mrs. J. Chester Peters, Route 1, Ashville, to Mercy Hospital.

The Ashville Alumni Association annual banquet will be held Saturday starting at 6:30 p. m. in the Ashville Elementary School Auditorium (the former high school auditorium). A round and square dance will be held. Music will be provided by the Teays Valley Dance Band, Ernie Wienstuffer of Columbus will call for the square dances. The public (high school age and over) is invited. Refreshments will be served.

The Teays Athletic Booster Club will sponsor a Donkey baseball game starting 8 p. m. June 20 on the Teays Valley ball diamond. This proves to be a hilarious evening of fun when men from the T.V. school district will make up the two teams, "The Buckin' Broncos" and "The Rough Riders". Plenty of action is in store when the two teams battle.

A group of students and teachers from Teays Valley High School departed from Columbus May 31 for a tour of New York City and The World's Fair.

The group members were able to see much of the city and cover parts of the Fair, but could not see all of it due to unavailability. They toured the luxury liner, The USS United States, and ate dinner on the water front.

They returned home Friday morning tired. They reported an enjoyable and educational adventure.

By H. D. CRAWFORD
Central Press Association
Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Natural and free-flowing rivers still undevastated by too much "civilization" are the subject of intensive study for the first time by federal government teams to determine the need for establishing a nationwide system of wild rivers for outdoor recreation.

Wild rivers have been a vital part of the American environment ever since earliest explorers used these natural travel routes to penetrate the wilderness. Traders used them to collect furs from Indians. Missionaries paddled over their surface to visit inland tribes. Settlers built villages and towns along their banks. Rivers have provided barriers against enemies and boundaries between states.

Rivers always have served man, but man has often misused rivers. Wild rivers today are scarce. Many rivers have become spavined workhorses: harnessed by dams, their waters polluted by sewage and industrial wastes, and commercial sprawl replacing once-forested banks.

Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall and Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, realizing what is happening to many fine rivers, visualized the possibility that American youth in the future might be deprived of this precious resource: natural, free-flowing rivers fringed by forest and inhabited by wildlife. As a result, the co-operative study of wild rivers is now under way.

Wild rivers are broadly defined for purposes of this unprecedented study "to include free-flowing streams and the adjacent land environment which possess esthetically pleasing qualities capable of providing a satisfying recreational experience of which possess unusual scenic, historical or scientific values worthy of preservation."

Six hundred rivers were considered and their number reduced to 64, then to 12 studied intensively. These represent various types of rivers and different geographic regions:

East — sections of the Upper Hudson and the North Branch Susquehanna. South — the Savannah headwaters and the South Fork Cumberland. Midwest — the St. Croix, Namekagon, and Niobrara. Southwest — a section of the Rio Grande. West — the Green, Rogue, Klamath, Flathead and Skagit.

Study teams comprised of Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, Forest Service, National Park Service, Sports Fisheries and Wildlife, Land Management and regional men are devoting many months to comprehensive studies. One goal is to obtain basic factual information to determine the feasibility of a nationwide system of wild rivers.

Other objectives are to determine the need and urgency for protecting undeveloped rivers, to develop criteria for selecting rivers most deserving of protection, to identify rivers with greatest recreational potentials, and to determine steps to recommend for protecting these rivers.

A river flowing naturally along its tree-fringed channel provides a distinctive recreational environment for motorist, hiker, camper, canoeist or boatman. It is symbolic of life, time and purpose. It is on the move from a point of departure to a destination.

Negotiations Booked in Paper Strike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Union and management representatives planned to resume negotiations today aimed at settling a strike which has shut down this city's two daily newspapers.

Today's meeting, set for 1:30 p. m., is the first since the Printers' and mailers' unions struck the Dispatch Printing Co. Monday.

The last paper to publish here was the Citizen-Journal's Monday morning edition. Shortly after the strike began, the afternoon Dispatch announced it was suspending publication, and the Citizen-Journal, a Scripps-Howard paper, failed to publish Tuesday.

The strikers, members of the Columbus Typographical Union No. 5 and the Columbus Mailers Union No. 103, have been working without a contract since Jan. 2.

The unions, affiliates of the AFL-CIO International Typographical Union, said they decided to strike when they became dissatisfied with the progress of negotiations.

The Dispatch Printing Co., in addition to publishing the Dispatch, handles the printing and circulation operations of the Citizen-Journal.

Among the disputed issues is a pension plan management wants to substitute for the unions' current plan which they have had since 1951.

Couples Club To Meet

The First Methodist Church Couples Club will meet 8 p. m. Saturday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hewitt Harmount, Route 1, Ashville, for a weiner roast.

Woman Hurt, Ex-Husband Is Slain

XENIA, Ohio (AP)—A man shot to death and a woman critically wounded were found in a wrecked car along Ohio 72 near here early today in what apparently was an attempted murder and suicide, the Ohio Highway Patrol said.

The woman was identified as Retha L. Yancey, 31, of Springfield. The man was her ex-husband, Clarence Yancey.

Mrs. Yancey was taken to Greene County Memorial Hospital for emergency treatment for bullet wounds in the head and chest. Her former husband, with a bullet wound in the head, was dead on arrival at the hospital.

Highway Patrolmen quoted the woman as saying Yancey picked her up Tuesday while she was on her way to work at a Springfield hospital and kept her at gunpoint most of the night. She also was reported to have said Yancey threatened to kill her following their divorce a week ago. The shootings apparently occurred after the car left the highway between Cedarville and Clifton and crashed into a ditch.

The patrol said a .22-caliber pistol was found outside the car. A special OHP investigator was being called in from Wilmington to investigate the shootings.

Crile Hospital Eyed As Mental Institution

CLEVELAND (AP)—Ohio officials want the soon-to-be-vacated Crile Veterans Hospital in suburban Parma for a mental institution, says Martin A. Janis, Ohio mental hygiene director.

Janis said the project is still in an exploratory stage, but that Gov. James A. Rhodes has lent his support to the plan. However, Rhodes, attending the National Governors' Conference here, said Tuesday he hasn't received Janis' recommendation yet and declined further comment.

Recital Postponed

The organ recital that was to be presented by Tom Duvall Sunday at Trinity Lutheran Church has been postponed until July.

33 Governors In Favor of Rights Bill

CLEVELAND (AP) — Two documents circulated at the National Governors' Conference here list 33 governors favoring and 10 opposing the civil rights bill now pending in Congress.

A statement urging prompt enactment of the bill was circulated by Oregon Gov. Mark O. Hatfield, Republican, and Kentucky Gov. Edward T. Breathitt, a Democrat.

At the urging of Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, Democrat, governors opposed to the bill signed a petition which says the current bill "would restrict and destroy the right of trial by jury."

The petitions cropped up after the governors refused to consider acting officially on a two-paragraph resolution, which said in part:

"... Prompt enactment of civil rights legislation by the Congress of the United States is urgently in the national interest."

To get a resolution on the convention floor requires a suspension of rules first by a three-fourths vote.

Hatfield said his petition would be sent directly to President Johnson and to each member of the Senate. He termed it a statement of principle, similar to one the governors approved last year.

Intelligence 'No Threat' To Femininity

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson advised the girls of Radcliffe Tuesday not to fear "your intelligence is a threat to your femininity."

"The man you marry," she told the graduating class, "will want you to be what you are—not only his wife and the mother of his children, but a person in your own right, with drives and desires, talents and skills of your own."

Noting that the girls of Radcliffe, an affiliate of Harvard, pride themselves on casual dress, she said "nevertheless, I do not see among you any of those ungainly Thurber females"—pictured by the late author-cartoonist James Thurber — "with stones poised to crush the nearest male skull—and I trust your male acquaintances include none of those equally ungainly Thurber men, hissing, 'Where did you get those great brown eyes and that tiny mind?'"

Ultimately, she said in her remarks prepared for the Radcliffe baccalaureate exercises at Memorial church on the Harvard Campus, the issues "come back to the spirit in which you can direct your own life—how happily can you marry both man and job; or how happily you can marry one of them." She urged them to take part in the business of "unfinished America"—from teaching the young to helping the elderly.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Brigner and son of Grove City were Friday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Brigner and Phyllis Brigner.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Hunt and family of Columbus, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Stout and daughter of Circleville visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Martin.

Mr. Phil Neff and sons, Phil and Todd visited Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Neff.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Dean visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Peters.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Pettibone and son Mike and Ellen Grabill, attended the Jack Sherrick dancing recital. Janet and Susan Pettibone were in the recital.

Mrs. Ernestine Dudleson and Melanie were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Skinner and family of Lithopolis.

Loretta Massengale visited Sunday with Roxanne Hulse.

Cincinnati Building Tradesmen End Strike

CINCINNATI (AP)—Most of the striking building trades workers were expected to be back on their jobs today since the sheet metal workers union accepted a new three-year contract. The sheet metal workers voted 390-40 Tuesday to accept a contract providing for 52.5 cents in hourly increases over the three years. They had been paid $4.24 an hour.

Union officers said their 850 members would return to work in more than 120 shops and building sites, installing heating and cooling equipment. The 200-member reinforced concrete iron workers, lathers and tile setters' union remained out on strike. Both unions went on strike June 1.

ENLISTEES — Taking the oath of allegiance in the U. S. Army are Fred K. Cullums (left) and Raymond C. Winner (center), both of Circleville. Both men have been guaranteed specified fields of technical training. Pictured administering the oath is Lt. Shuwald of Ft. Hayes, Columbus.

In 1942, the German Gestapo wiped out the Czechoslovakian village of Lidice.

In 1943, President Franklin D. Roosevelt signed the pay - as - you-go tax bill.

Ten years ago — President Dwight D. Eisenhower said the serious worldwide threat of communism could not be stemmed by military strength alone.

Five years ago — United States aid to Poland was cut by 50 per cent from 1957 and 1958 in a sales and credit agreement signed by the two nations in Washington.

The rebuilt South Wing of the Reichstag Building.

German Reichstag Building Open Again after 30 Years

By SANDO BOLOGNA
Written Especially for Central Press and This Newspaper

After being in ruins for more than 30 years, the German Reichstag Building has been reopened as the parliamentary arm of the Bonn government and as another affirmation of West German rights in the old capital of Germany.

Forty-five rooms have been renovated in the building's South Wing which has been reconstructed since 1957 for about 30 million marks ($7½ million).

Restoration work is now progressing on the central parliamentary chamber and the other parts of the building at an eventual cost of about $12 million.

Reopening of this historic structure was hailed by Bundestag leaders as the latest step in the march toward German unity under parliamentary democracy. The South Wing contains offices and meeting rooms for committees for the Federal Republic's Bundestag. There is a direct telephone connection with the Bundestag speaker's office in Bonn.

When Dr. Eugen Gerstenmaier, Bundestag speaker, accepted the old gold key to the Reichstag at the dedication ceremony, he declared, "Today

2 Defendants Are Freed in Beetle Case

CINCINNATI (AP)—Hamilton County Common Pleas Court Judge Otis R. Hess acquitted two men who had been charged with manslaughter in connection with a slaying during an argument over a Beetle wig. Judge Hess, hearing the case without a jury, acquitted Fred T. Carter, 29, and Ernie Hill, 27. He said, however, they were "unworthy of belief but the state did not prove their guilt beyond a reasonable doubt."

The men were indicted in connection with the death of Bert Valentine, 42.

The state claimed another man, Ray Coldiron, 27, had the Beetle wig in a cafe and allowed Valentine to put it on. Remarks were made that Valentine should be allowed to keep it since he was bald.

There subsequently was an argument outside the cafe and Valentine was knocked down and killed. He died of a fractured skull. Carter and Hill claimed they acted in self defense. A state witness also testified that he saw another unidentified man kick Valentine.

"The court must decide this case on the evidence that was presented and not on what must have happened," said Judge Hess.

Agrostologists, or grass experts, don't believe chemicals are the ultimate answer to crabgrass. The best long-range remedy is to improve the soil so that a strong, thick turf of desirable grass will smother the seedlings of crabgrass long before they mature.

First Graders Publish Their Own Book

CHICAGO (AP) — There's a new book on the market today at the University of Chicago, but the 26 authors will have a problem signing the first editions. The authors, first graders, are still learning how to print their names.

The 26 precocious members of Mrs. Judy Jones' first-grade class at the university's laboratory school decided in November that along with learning to read books, they'd like to write and publish one.

After seven months of almost daily work, 150 copies of the gaily colored, magazine-size book, entitled "Interesting Stories," rolled off the press two weeks ago.

Proud parents snapped them up. The book is now headed for a second printing.

"All schools and classrooms are concerned with writing and reading stories," said Mrs. Jones, 27. "We just took ours a little farther."

The students collaborated in writing and illustrating five stories for the book, ranging from "Julie and Jane's Adventures in School" to "How We Got Our Freedom."

Another story tells of the adventures of Sammy, who lived on the moon "in a big crater that they had made tunnels through."

The stories were dictated to Mrs. Jones, who said the idea behind the book came from Mrs. Farrand Ennis, whose daughter is in the class.

"The purpose of the project was to expose the children to the experience of learning how books are produced," said Mrs. Ennis, who works for a neighborhood newspaper, the Hyde Park Herald.

Mrs. Ennis told Don McCabe, design editor of the newspaper, of the project and he volunteered to help ready the book for publication.

But if life seems complicated for McCabe, author Sarah Ennis, 6, takes it in stride.

"It's just make believe," she told The Associated Press. "The whole thing's just make believe."

Author Jeff Johnston, 7, said what he liked best was "when I was asked to put autographs in the books."

Wallace Says Rights Bill To Be Repealed

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama says that if the civil rights bill is enacted, "it will be repealed in two to four years."

"I'm not advocating disobedience of any law," Wallace said in an interview. "But people, North and South, are going to resist and resist this. It will take a police state to enforce it."

"It's a severe attack on private property and free enterprise, and when people realize this the law will be repealed in two to four years."

Wallace said he is convinced that feeling over the racial issue was an important factor in Sen. Barry Goldwater's victory over Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York in the California Republican presidential primary June 2.

As for Rockefeller's state, Wallace said: "New York already has all those civil rights laws on the books and New York has more problems today than any other state in the union."

Answering a question, he said he has no plans to organize a nationwide movement to work for repealing the civil rights bill if or when it becomes law. "I won't put myself up for that," Wallace said, "but I'll do my part as best I know how."

Judging from Wallace's out-of-state mail, it appears that he has won much support for his position on civil rights.

Since he entered Democratic presidential primaries in three states, an aide said, nearly 250,000 letters have come to him. Wallace got 27 per cent of the vote in Wisconsin, 34 per cent in Indiana, and 42.7 per cent in Maryland.

Examination of the letters and telegrams showed they came from virtually every part of the nation.

Many originated in large Northern cities where racial problems have arisen in the past year. Many others, however, bore the postmarks of small communities.

"Had I known I was going to do so well in those primaries," Wallace said, "I would have gone into California."

He said he intends to go into more states seeking to win unpled electoral votes.

"It is conceivable that you could get enough electoral votes to hold the balance of power as to who is and who is not going to be the next president," Wallace said.

Employment Is Tied to Social Ills

CLEVELAND (AP)—Employment is the answer to our social ills, Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes said Tuesday at the National Governors' Conference.

He addressed an employment panel, one of three considering touchy civil rights problems.

The governor, who is waging a campaign to create new jobs in Ohio without boosting taxes, said frankly he is trying to attract industry from other states.

"We must in the state of Ohio compete with our neighboring states in industrial growth," Rhodes told the other governors.

"What we must be concerned with is the proper attitude to make a profit."

Rhodes cited figures showing that Ohio ranked higher than many state in expenditures for public assistance. The figures set state and local expenditures at nearly $11 per capita as compared with a $13 national average. Of federal funds for those

Ohio Turnpike Bonds Found in Theft Probe

CLEVELAND (AP) — The FBI said $12,000 worth of Ohio Turnpike bonds was found in the possession of a 34-year-old man arrested in connection with a $34,000 robbery in a "Gold Coast" home. FBI agents arrested William Gene Huff Thursday at the Oxford Hotel, where he was visiting a friend. He was charged with interstate transportation of stolen bonds.

The robbery was at the home of Walter J. Mueller, on Edgewater Avenue on the west side. Mrs. Mueller told police she was handcuffed to a piano in the basement by a man who gained entrance posing as a telephone company worker.

Tutor Wills $10,000 to 4th Grade

WICKLIFFE, Ohio (AP) — "She was an excellent teacher. The kids were all fond of her."

That's how Mrs. Virginia Scoville affected the fourth graders at Lincoln Elementary School in Wickliffe, said the school principal, Mrs. Nora Stoneman.

The 27 youngsters affected Mrs. Scoville, too. The childless widow, who earned her teaching credentials five years ago, left $10,000 in her will to the fourth graders.

"I think it disturbed her that there was never enough money to provide the children with the supplies and trips she would have liked them to have," Mrs. Stoneman said.

Mrs. Scoville, 52, died May 23 and the stipulation was outlined in the will, filed Monday in Lake County Common Pleas Court. The total will, valued at $50,000 includes $10,000 to a nephew in Georgia and $30,000 to the Grace Episcopal Church of nearby Willoughby.

The money is to be deposited in a trust fund and only the interest and some of the principal is to be used over the next 50 years, said Mrs. Scoville's attorney, Robert Debevec.

Mrs. Stoneman was named executor of the will and fourth grade teachers will decide how to help each succeeding class of fourth graders.

Ex-Mental Patient Ruled To Be Suicide

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The coroner has ruled drowning-suicide in the death of a former mental patient recovered from the Scioto River near the downtown Broad Street bridge.

The victim, Alice Millsot, about 50, was seen floating in the river Tuesday and was recovered a short time later. Officials said she had been a patient at the Columbus State Hospital earlier this year.

Hunter Still Likes Ducks

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP)—Duck hunter John F. Oberstaler says he hunted the wild game for a half century, and now that he's retired he makes miniature ducks by hand.

"I began making these little ones out of cork as a hobby," he said.

The 68-year-old retired courthouse employee carves the tiny fowl from chunks of discarded insulating cork and affixes heads, wings and tails carved from pine wood.

He then paints them complete with fathers until the finished product is amazingly realistic.

Herald Hawks Post Win Over Ralston

The Herald Hawks trounced Ralston Purina, 15-1, yesterday at the Fairgrounds Little League diamond behind the pitching of Ronnie Stevens.

Stevens hurled a six-hit game, issuing only one base on balls and setting down 13 Ralston players via strikeouts.

The victory gives The Herald a 2-1 record in little league major action, placing them in a tie with the BPO Elks for first place. Purina now has a 1-2 slate.

Pitchers for the Millers were Jeff Harr and Terry Leasure. They gave up 15 hits.

STEVE MOGAN, Tom Wickham, and Billy Thomas paced The Herald hitters, each collecting three safeties in four trips. Each scored three runs. Thomas poled a triple, the only extra base hit for the winners.

Raymond Bass had two hits for the losers, scoring their lone run. Bob Hill tagged a triple for the only extra base hit by the Millers.

Ramos Is Ordreed To Take Long Rest

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Sugar Ramos, world featherweight champion, was ordered by his doctors Tuesday to rest for three months because of his hard fight with Floyd Robertson in Accra, Ghana, a month ago.

Ramos won a controversial 15-round split decision and retained his title, although the Ghana Boxing Commission announced they had reversed the decision and recognized Robertson as champion.

Luis Spota, president of the Mexico City Boxing Commission said that the doctors had ordered Ramos to avoid all boxing routine until September. He will be under medical supervision.

Bullet Cagers Involved in Piston Deal

BALTIMORE (AP) — A monumental 5-for-3 trade with the Baltimore Bullets, involving such stars as Bailey Howell and Terry Dischinger, has given General Manager Coach Charles Wolf of the Detroit Pistons a good start toward keeping a promise.

The promise, made at the end of last season, was that the Pistons would undergo at least a "60 per cent turnover" in personnel before they started a new National Basketball Association campaign.

Besides Howell, greatest scorer in Piston history, Detroit gave up veterans Don Ohl and Bob Ferry and their No. 2 and 3 draft choices—6-foot-8 Les Hunter of Chicago Loyola and ball-handling whiz Wally Jones of Villanova.

Along with Dischinger, the 1963 NBA rookie of the year and a 20.8-points-per-game man last season, Baltimore dealt off rookies Rod Thorn and Don Kojis.

The Bullets finished fourth and the Pistons fifth in the league's Western half, but the management of both clubs contended Tuesday's deal, the biggest in NBA history, makes the future look rosy.

Bullet General Manager Paul Hoffman called Ohl, a good outside shot who averaged 17.3 last season, "probably the finest guard in the league" and noted that Howell has averaged between 17.8 and 23.4 over a five-year span during which he has totaled 8,182 points for a Piston career record.

Home Runs Cut Leafs' Lead in IL

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Toronto got caught in a vise of ninth-inning home runs Tuesday. Two circuit blow in two different games whittled their International League lead to one-half game.

A two-run homer by Atlanta's Chuck Weatherpoon decked the Maple Leafs 6-4 while Dal Maxvill slapped a three-run homer to give Jacksonville a 10-7 victory and pulled the Suns within 12 percentage points of the league leaders.

In other games, Rochester edged Richmond 3-2 and Columbus downed Syracuse 4-2 to end a seven-game losing streak.

Columbus rode the arm of Tom Sisk until the ninth inning to break their seven-game tailspin toward the league cellar.

Sisk held Syracuse to three hits until the ninth. Then Willie Horton walked and Jim Northrup and George Smith singled to bring him in and make the score 4-2.

The Jets then called on veteran reliever Sam Jones, who got Ray Oyler to hit into a game ending double play.

The Jets had lost nine of their last 11 starts. Sisk, who had pitched a one-hitter against Atlanta last week, struck out 10 while walking only two.

Bruce Brubaker, Syracuse hurler, was reached for a first-inning solo homer by Julio Gotay. He also gave up a walk to Rex Johnston, plus singles by Gotay and Bob Burda, for anning other run in the third that put Columbus ahead to stay.

Cincy High Schooler Is Signed by Redlegs

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds' newest farmhand should really burn up the National League if he stays anywhere near his high school performance level.

The Reds Tuesday announced signing a Cincinnati boy, Ron Jones, who was 8-3 as a pitcher and .402 as a hitter for Taft High School this spring. Jones is a switch hitter and throws right handed. He was assigned to the Reds' Tampa farm club.

Sadecki Shows Strong Power

Cardinal Hurler Shuts Out Giants

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Ray Sadecki certainly has matured quickly.

Two years ago he was being called a 10-year-old boy. Now Sadecki's 23—and the hottest pitcher on the St. Louis staff.

Sadecki gave still another indication of his transition Tuesday night, with a six-hit, 1-0 victory over Juan Marichal and the National League leading San Francisco Giants.

It was the first shutout of the season and the sixth straight victory as a starter for the onetime bad boy of the Cardinal staff.

Two years and four days before he had stepped to the mound against Cincinnati and faced just five batters. When he trudged off the mound, he had been tagged for five runs on two homers, a single and two of his own errors.

St. Louis Manager Johnny Keane, flushed with anger, cited Sadecki for acting "like a 10-year-old boy" and said his performance was "the worst exhibition of effort I've ever seen on a major league diamond."

Sadecki countered: "I don't see how I can pitch anymore for a guy like this," and said he was quitting the team.

Cooler heads prevailed and Keane and Sadecki wound up shaking hands. Sadecki also wound up in the minors.

Last year Sadecki returned and was 10-10. Then he got off to a quick 0-3 start this season. But he hasn't lost since as a starter, his one defeat coming in a relief role. His latest victory snapped a four-game St. Louis losing streak and cut the Giants league lead to one game over Philadelphia.

The Phillies split, ending a four-game skid with a 4-3 first-game victory before Pittsburgh rookie Steve Blass stopped them 4-0 on four hits in the nightcap.

In the only other single game, Cincinnati edged the Los Angeles Dodgers 2-1. Houston defeated Milwaukee 6-5 and 4-1 while the New York Mets edged the Chicago Cubs 6-5 in 12 innings before losing 5-2.

The American League-leading Chicago White Sox belted Baltimore 9-5. Detroit crushed Minnesota 16-1. Boston downed the New York Yankees 5-2, the Los Angeles Angels whipped Cleveland 5-1 and Washington took a pair from Kansas City 8-4 and 5-1.

Bums Prove Impotent in Redleg Bout

LOS ANGELES (AP) — You've heard of Murderers' Row, the name they gave that frightening mob of hitters mobilized by the New York Yankees in the 1920s.

Now come baseball's present defending champions, the Los Angeles Dodgers, with a batting order that may come to be known as death row.

It's an array that has terrified millions—all of them Dodger fans.

If Frank Howard hadn't been in their lineup—and he may not stay in it the way he's been hitting—the Dodgers would have only 15 home runs with nearly one-third of the season gone. That's an average of less than one every three games.

You could see more balls hit farther in a billiard match.

The Dodger pitching staff has a superb earned-run average of 2.60. Yet the club today is two games below .500.

"I really hate to waste that," Walter Alston said Tuesday night after the Dodgers amassed four singles in nine innings and dropped a 2-1 decision to the Cincinnati Reds.

Pitching Coach Howie Pollet of the St. Louis Cardinals led National League pitchers in the earned run records in 1943 and 1946.

Sam Snead Qualifies 24th Time for U.S. Open Test

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Golf lovers everywhere heaved a big sigh of relief today—Sam Snead made it.

Slammin' Sammy, the man who has won a hundred tournaments but never the Open, will be trying for the 24th time when 150 of the world's best golfers tee off next week in the blue ribbon American championship at the Congressional Club in Washington, D.C.

Snead was among 94 who qualified in final 36-hole tests Tuesday at Detroit; Woodmere, N.Y.; Washington; Pittsburgh, and Fort Worth, completing the field for the championship proper June 18-20.

Others were less fortunate, including former winners Cary Middlecoff, Tommy Bolt and Lew Worsham and such well-known touring pros as Dave Marr, Bob Duden and Wes Ellis.

Sam, now 52 but still strong and active and a sentimental favorite every time he tees up the ball in the Open, made the grade easily at Detroit, where big George Bayer led a strong field of the tournament stars with a score of 68-70-138.

Snead's qualifying score was 71-73-144, five shots under the cutoff point for the 39 who made the grade at Detroit.

It was at Detroit that Bolt, the 1958 winner, shot a 77 for the first round, played 17 holes of the second and then left the course without taking off his spikes. Duden, the croquet-style putter from Portland, Ore., missed in a playoff of the 149 shooters.

Middlecoff, the golfing dentist who won the Open in 1949 and 1956, was a casualty at Woodmere, N.Y., where 36 qualifiers were led by the 230-pound Welshman, Dave Thomas.

Thomas shot the best 36 holes of the day with 68-67-135, leading such well-known players as Jay and Lionel Hebert, Doug Ford, Tommy Jacobs and Claude Harmon. Middlecoff missed at 148, as did Ellis, also 148, and Marr, the Masters runner-up, 147.

Other sectional leaders were Bill Garrett, 75-71-146, at Fort Worth; Tom Strange, 69-70-139 at Washington, and Chuck Scalley 69-70-139 at Pittsburgh. Worsham, who beat Snead in a playoff for the Open crown in 1947, missed out at Pittsburgh.

There are many who contend that Snead, despite his age, can still win the Open, and he'll probably never have a course more to his liking than Congressional, a layout built for the big hitter.

Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus are the favorites there. They were exempt from qualifying, as was the defending champion, Julius Boros, and 19 others.

Cleveland Leads Pre-Senior Test

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Ed Preisler, 53-year-old Cleveland golfer, fired a steady 37-37—74, two over par, to take an opening-day lead in the Ohio Pre-Senior Golf Tournament at Tippecanoe Country Club.

That gave him a two-stroke lead going into today's final 18 holes. Six men were tied for second at 76.

Tied for second were Loring Sheffield of Tippecanoe, 38-38; Paul Door, Zanesville 41-35; Dr. Earl Pennell, Dayton, 38-38; E. C. McFadden, Newark, 39-37; Pete Risser, Wooster, 36-40; and A. D. Medern, Cadiz, 39-37.

Defending champion Don Blancett, Zanesville, had 39-39—78.

Lumbermen, Bowlers Post Mosquito League Victories

Circleville Lumber and Prairie Lanes maintained perfect records in the Mosquito League yesterday. The Lumbermen defeated Pickaway Dairy 24-8 and the Bowlers slipped past Hill Implement, 6-5.

Both winning teams now have 2-0 records to throw the Mosquito League lead into a three-way tie. The Knights of Columbus team also has a 2-0 slate.

Dave Truex paced the winning Lumbermen at bat, hitting two homers, a double and a single in five trips. Truex actually hit another home run, but was called out for missing a base.

Scott Clifton blasted a home-run for the winners and three singles. Randy Young belted a triple and a trio of singles.

JEFF WALISA hit a triple as did Tim Burns. For the losers, the lone hit was a triple by Robin Martin.

Jim Whaley and Young teamed up to hurl the game for the winners. Whaley whiffed six and walked six while Young struck out seven and walked eight.

For the losers, Jerry Boltenhouse started, striking out four and walking five. Craig Lund finished the game, setting down one via a strikeout and issuing five bases on balls.

The Lumbermen romped to an 11-run first inning performance, then coasted to victory.

Prairie Lanes scored in the first inning of their game with Hill Implement and trailed only in the third inning when the Implement team took a short lived 2-1 edge.

The Bowlers came back with a three-run effort in the bottom of the frame, saw the losers tie the game in the top of the fourth and then went ahead for good with two runs in the bottom of the fourth.

THE HILL men could score only a lone run in the remaining two innings.

Steve Brungs and Mike Herron teamed up to pitch for the winners. Brungs whiffed one and walked two while Herron

L. M. Butch, Kiwanis Win BR Games

Kiwanis stretched its hold over the Babe Ruth major league with a 10-0 shutout of General Electric last night at the Fairgrounds. Kiwanis is 4-0, while GE stands at 2-1. L. M. Butch defeated DuPont, 11-10.

Glenn Cassill fired home the win for the Kiwanians. He allowed four hits, walked two and fanned eight in the full seven innings he pitched.

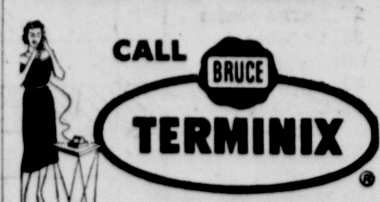

Bill Hill drew the GE pitching assignment. The fireballer struck out 15 batters, but lost the tilt when he walked five and gave up 12 hits.

Steve Dade paced the Kiwanians at the plate with a triple, a double and two singles in five turns at the plate. Joe Winner added a double and a single, Craig Lambert carded a double.

Hill hit a double for the GE nine. Lynn Heath also garnered a double.

LET'S EXPLORE OHIO

STATE PARKS

A peek through the trees at blue Lake Hope, nestled among the hills of the 18,777-acre Zaleski State Forest in Vinton and Athens Counties, gives the viewer no idea of the variety of facilities available to the visitor in this State Park.

Thousands have discovered that Lake Hope State Park is the most elaborate of Ohio's ventures into supplying the needs of vacationing families.

The Lake Hope Lodge, which is well known as a top eating place, is the focal point of all recreational activity. This limestone building has great natural beauty. The two dining rooms will seat 200 and the second floor is available for banquets.

A large number of vacation cabins, well furnished and beautifully located, are available for rental. Early reservations are in order for these cabins, for they are in great demand.

The Lake Hope Lodge, on its high perch amid the trees, can be seen for miles when its lights are on at night.

Fishing, boating and swimming are sports which attract many visitors to Lake Hope.

Views on Television - Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Just about everybody loves a parade with its stirring music, bright uniforms and the sight of Old Glory snapping in the breeze.

Tuesday night only a comparative handful of television viewers, those with access to color sets, could fully savor the spitting sights in NBC's affectionate salute to the flag, a program called "The Red, White and Blue."

Most of those who saw the program found a sober, well-tioned hour full of lofty sentiments and imaginative camera work, but all in white, black and gray. It was the color—brilliant reds and blues and greens—that turned the program into a memorable experience.

The program concentrated on a few patriotic events. One was an all-out Independence Day celebration held annually in Faith, N.C. population 493, which attracts 30,000 visitors.

Another was a moving Memorial Day observance in the burial ground of Noank, a small Connecticut town whose children know the names and deeds of Noank men who gave their lives in many wars. There was a memoir of Ellis Island as the camera's eye wandered over the deserted crumbling buildings occupied only by the ghosts of other days.

Here and there the program tossed out a question about an America "so flag-shy that Barbara Fritchie would be put down as a neighborhood eccentric." Narrator Walter Brennan pointed out that only 20 per cent of all Americans even own a flag.

But except for suggesting that flag-waving went out of fashion because it was done by "some mighty strange people," including Communists, American Nazis and the Ku Klux Klan, the program failed to diagnose the cause of the nation's apparent apathy about its flag.

"CBS Reports" tonight will be treating the subject of the constitutional guarantee of a citizen's right to keep and bear arms by examining two case histories of murder weapons. Because they are both still in the California courts, the program will not be seen either in Los Angeles or San Diego.

Rhodes on List As Goldwater's Running Mate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater—standing on the threshold of the Republican presidential nomination — is eying four Eastern GOP leaders as he thinks about a running mate.

To his closest associates, Goldwater has mentioned these names as possible vice-presidential choices:

—Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton.

—Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky.

—Rep. William E. Miller of New York.

—Gov. James A. Rhodes of Ohio.

The Ohio chieftain was described last week by Columbus statehouse observers as having been "running at a full gallop for the vice presidency ever since he became governor."

Other sources claimed Ohio GOP Chairman Ray Bliss, mentioned as the next Republican national chairman, was tinkering with a deal to throw Ohio's 58 convention delegates to Goldwater on the first ballot next month instead of to "favorite son" Rhodes.

Rhodes has not said he would not accept the No. 2 position. He has maintained an official stance of wanting only to continue as governor.

Goldwater hasn't ruled anybody in or out of the running, a source close to the Arizona senator said today.

But Goldwater has said he thinks the Republican National Convention will want to balance the ticket—if he heads it—with a moderate Republican from the East.

The four men associates say Goldwater has mentioned all fit that pattern.

Publicly, Goldwater usually bypasses questions about a vice-presidential choice. "I'm looking for delegates, not vice presidents," is his stock reply.

He has talked about Scranton, suggesting the Pennsylvania governor would be well advised to consider the vice-presidential nomination.

That way, Goldwater said Sunday, if the ticket lost, the governor would be in a position to capture the presidential nomination in 1968.

Scranton questioned whether a ticket pairing him with Goldwater would make sense. He said they would disagree on how best to implement some Republican principles.

But Goldwater described their areas of disagreement as very minor.

With his delegate strength mounting steadily toward the 655 votes he needs for the nomination, Goldwater was said by an aide to be viewing the vice-presidential spot in terms of how best to strengthen the ticket next November — not with an eye to building his convention power.

Tipp City Gravel Pit Is Searched for Body

TROY, Ohio (AP) — Authorities planned a second day of dragging operations in a flooded gravel pit east of nearby Tipp City today in an attempt to find the remains of a woman's body. The search began Monday night after a fisherman, Robert Johnson, hooked the severed arm of a woman.

Dragging operations were resumed Tuesday, and SCUBA divers found the other arm but not the rest of the body. They had to quit searching about nightfall.

New Book Available At Public Library

Now available at the Pickaway County District Public Library is a new book, "The Pepperidge Farm Cook Book," presented to the library in memory of the late Mrs. Roy Gosnell.

According to Mrs. Wilmina Wolford, librarian, it was given by Miss Geneva Schoenfeld, Madison, Wis., and Miss Agnes Peacock, Minneapolis, Minn.

Geneva Man Accused In Traffic Fatality

GENEVA, Ohio (AP) — Charles Webster, 29, of Geneva, has been charged with traffic manslaughter in the death of a father of four in a two-car collision on Ohio 34 May 28. Webster was released on $10,000 bond Tuesday after he was charged. He did not enter a plea before County Court Judge Howard T. Warner.

Ralph J. Padavick of Geneva was killed in the wreck south of here. Highway patrolmen said Webster's car crossed the center line on a curve and hit Padavick's car.

Nixon Fails To Halt Barry

Some Critics Say
Dick Booming Self

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The annual Governors Conference, which has had all the aspects of a miniature Republican convention, ends today with Sen. Barry Goldwater galloping almost unchallenged toward the GOP presidential nomination.

The 56th annual convention hasn't produced a moderate Republican opponent for the conservative senator from Arizona. Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon tried hard to stir up a nomination fight that some of his critics thought was aimed at opening the way for Nixon himself to run against President Johnson as a compromise choice.

But none of the GOP governors who had claimed that Goldwater's views are not in the mainstream of Republican thinking wanted to take on the senator.

Latest to bow out was Gov. George Romney of Michigan. He announced through his press secretary Tuesday that he would not become an active candidate. Romney said he would accept a draft, but wouldn't go back on a 1962 commitment to Michigan voters not to seek national office this year.

This announcement came after Nixon said he had urged Romney to run, and Romney said he had been urged by some fellow governors to make the race and would consider it.

Nixon, who flew out of town after his strenuous efforts to launch a stop-Goldwater movement failed, warned party moderates that there is less than a 50-50 chance of preventing Goldwater's nomination.

Nixon said he was trying to advance a candidate who would represent the principles of the party as they are thought of in the industrial states of Michigan, Illinois, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York and California.

Nixon said he plans to meet next week with Eisenhower. He said Eisenhower, who talked with Romney at the conference, has spoken highly of the Michigan governor.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Here is the official U. S. Weather bureau summary of Ohio's weather:

Very warm and humid air covered Ohio Tuesday evening through early Wednesday morning except for somewhat cooler air pushing into the northwest counties.

Dry weather was also the rule. However, distant lightning occurred at Toledo.

At dawn this morning, a few light showers of short duration developed at Dayton, Toledo, Akron and Youngstown. Temperatures included Columbus 74, Cleveland 71, Cincinnati and Marietta 75 and Zanesville 77.

Widely scattered showers or thundershowers were likely for the western sections of Ohio early in the day and for the eastern sections this afternoon as a cold front moved eastward across the state.

Dry and cooler temperatures were to then follow tonight and Thursday as high pressure settled over the state.

OHIO FIVE-DAY FORECAST

OHIO—Cooler weather is indicated, averaging 3-6 degrees below normal. Normal high and low temperatures are Cincinnati 84-63, Columbus 82-59, Cleveland 78-56. Cooler Thursday, warmer Friday but turning cooler about Saturday and continued cool through early next week. Precipitation will average one-half inch or more north and three-quarters of an inch or more south as showers or thundershowers Friday and probably ending Saturday.

Civil Rights Trainees Ask U.S. Protection

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Fourteen white youths who leave here today for Oxford, Ohio, to train for a summer civil rights project have asked Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy for protection while they help register the Negro vote in Mississippi.

The 14 are among 100 volunteers for the Mississippi Summer Project leaving here today. At Oxford they will attend a nationwide conference and train for their work.

Their request was made in a letter given to U. S. Atty. Cecil Poole for forwarding to the attorney general.

Detachment Of Church Hit by Cleric

LAKESIDE, Ohio (AP) — "American culture has capitulated to pleasure, pills and popularity," says a Methodist church leader.

"The church stands on the sidelines indicted because of her detachment from society," Dr. Harry Baker told the Methodist Ohio Conference's annual meeting Tuesday.

Speaking to the 2,000 attending delegates, the Zanesville district superintendent said a question of the times could well be: "Which is your favorite supermarket where you will spend the Sabbath?"

Baker said that "too often we forget our chief purpose of winning people to Christ and then the church develops into a mutual admiration society."

The meeting which opened Tuesday, heard a report that membership in the conference, which covers southern and central Ohio has reached an all-time high of 342,095.

Successful Opener Greet 4th Kenley Players Season

By RICHARD L. DAVIS

The Kenley Players fourth season of summer theater opened last night at Vets Auditorium, Columbus, with the sweet smell of success.

Columbus area theater patrons were treated to a magnificently staged production of "My Fair Lady"—the musical adaptation of George Bernard Shaw's classic "Pygmalion."

The incontestable champion of musical comedy introduced Ray Milland to the stage and a pleased audience in the role of Professor Henry Higgins. Milland confessed during a brief curtain call speech that Higgins was his first role in living theater.

Outside of a couple dropped lines, the opener was an outstanding mixture of wit, movement, color and melody unmaned by lack of preparation. Casting is superb with Milland as the "name" star, although some of the supporting roles steal the show at times.

Marilyn Savage is delightfully refreshing as Eliza Doolittle, the Cockney flower-girl who is transformed into a beautiful English-speaking lady by Professor Higgins and Col. Pickering (Charles Caron).

Receiving several outbursts of applause was Dean Dittman as Alfred P. Doolittle. Dittman bounces across the huge stage in a rowdy impersonation of Eliza's father that would be most difficult to equal.

Don McKay, who made his mark with Kenley audiences during the 1960 season as Tony in "West Side Story," sings "On the Street Where You Live" with an ease and a glowing beauty that makes Freddy Eynsford-Hill a memorable character.

Kenley's production of the Lerner - Lowe masterpiece brings to life the witty story in a manner that is irresistibly appealing. From the overture to final curtain (about three hours) outbursts of applause and laughter are commonplace. Also worthy of mention are members of the singing and dancing chorus who kick up their heels in "Get Me To The Church On Time." All choreography, under the direction of Nancy Lynch, as well as the musical score, do justice to the award-winning play.

"My Fair Lady" has been presented twice before in Columbus by touring companies. This week's stock company production will be placed on the same level by many who will be seeing it for the second or third time. For those who haven't seen it, a real treat is waiting. . . for those who have seen it, see it again. You won't be disappointed.

Note: Columbus audiences continue to win the prize for being late. The overture was hardly audible for the conversations being carried on by latecomers. At least the first five minutes of scene one were lost for most of the opening night crowd.
